DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-11 currently stand withdrawn due to the response dated April 20, 2009 to the restriction requirement mailed March 23, 2009. However, upon reconsideration, a new restriction requirement is set forth below.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-11, drawn to a method of stabilizing particles.

Group II, claim(s) 12-32, drawn to a composition of matter.

Group III, claim(s) 33-36, drawn to the use of a composition of matter.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

All groups share the same technical feature, the composition of matter as in claim 12. However, the composition of matter of claim 12 does not exhibit "special technical features", because it does not make a contribution over the prior art.

Peng et al. (US 2004/0101976) teaches nanoparticles coated with organic dendrons in a colloidal solution (Abstract). The nanoparticles can be semiconductor nanoparticles with a phosphine or phosphine oxide linking group (Paragraph 62).

Art Unit: 1794

Therefore, the composition of matter does not exhibit a "special technical feature".

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Linking group

A) linking group wherein the phosphorus is in the form of phosphines and

B) linking group wherein the phosphorus is in the form of phosphine oxides in combination with ethylene oxide.

Nanoparticle core

Choose one nanoparticle core from the cores of claims 15-31.

If group I is elected, Applicants must elect one linking group. If group II is elected, Applicants must elect one linking group and one nanoparticle core.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species A) claims 10 and 13 Species B) claims 11 and 14

The claim number of the elected nanoparticle core corresponds to the nanoparticle core species.

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-9, 12 and 32.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the reasons stated above for the invention restriction, since phosphine linking groups and semiconductor nanoparticles such as CdSe (Paragraph 53) are taught by Peng. Peng (Claim 9) further teaches nanoparticle cores that can be stabilized and includes the majority of the nanoparticle species of the instant claims.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
